

NEUROLYRICAL CAFE! OPEN MIC NIGHT

Me or We?

If I were a math expression I'd be

Irrational Number Body
Perfect Square Mind

A body that acts quite on its own
A mind that can only watch and mourn

Body, the numerator, mere flesh and bone
Irrational number like, a math anomaly
Visible to all, pure absurdity

Mind, the denominator, profound and wise
Perfect square like, just ecstasy
Hidden from sight, pure tragedy

Body just limited by space, movement and time
Mind without boundaries, infinite times

Two seeming identities in one unreasonable body
Perchance, I should be a 'We' and not 'Me.'

I crave the 'Me' and not the 'We'
How do I go from the 'We' to 'Me'?
